ABOUT AARON

Dr. Aaron Judkins is known as the "Maverick Archaeologist." He is a biblical archaeologist, author and film producer known for the documentary theatrical film, "Finding Noah." Important projects include excavations at the Pool of Siloam in Jerusalem, the Search for Noah's Ark, and the discovery of Dead Sea Scroll Cave 12 in Qumran, Israel. He has also mapped the longest contiguous dinosaur trackway in North America in Glen Rose, Texas and solved the Los Lunas Mystery Stone in New Mexico. He works with the Creation Evidence Museum in Glen Rose and is a senior fellow with the Biblical Institute of Anthropology. He is a guest host of the new upcoming show called "Heiser's Grey Haven's Report." His new book on Gobekli Tepe called "Decoding Gobekli Tepe: Biblical Anatolia and the Watchers" is the #1 new release on Amazon in archaeology. www.AaronJudkins.com
